DIY Flathead Lake Mussel Walk You can help monitor for invasive mussels!

Early detection of invasive mussels is key to preventing an infestation. Once mussels are established, it is nearly impossible to get rid of them. Help continue our community effort to keep a watchful eye on Flathead Lake and watershed and participate in the Flathead Lake Mussel Walk Challenge!

WE NEED YOU! Please participate in the Flathead Lake Mussel Walk Challenge this April and May. Help us continue to monitor our watershed for aquatic invasive species.

- Pick a beautiful day and go to your favorite Flathead Lake spot.
- Slowly walk your stretch of Flathead Lake, turning over rocks and inspecting dock and sea wall structures. Feel free to bring gloves and a garbage bag.
- Look for anything suspicious. You can find an invasive mussel guide and instructions, and contact information for anything suspicious on our website, www.flatheadlakers.org.
- If you have children, take them along! Share the instructions and encourage friends and family to go out as well (while social distancing).
- Record your location and findings. Take a photo or video and SEND IT TO US!
- Submit your results at our website, www.flatheadlakers.org.

Contact Hilary Devlin at hilary@flatheadlakers.org or 406-883-1341 for more information. We look forward to hearing your observations!
